THE GRADUATION ORACLE

The class of 1923 offers its graduation number of the Stetson Oracle, hoping it will receive the support and commendation of our friends. We have included in this issue the graduation program with statistics concerning the class. The friendly jokes we print are intended to brighten the paper and are not to be taken seriously. As seems advisable we have omitted all cuts and have given the space to more interesting matter.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

The graduation exercises this year are similar to those of a number of years past, that is, the speaking is done by members of the class. It is evident that with a class of fifty only a few can be chosen to speak, and in many ways the exercises would gain by having a speaker from abroad to deliver an address; this would relieve those of the class who might otherwise take part from all nervous strain, and makes the occasion one of reward rather than of nervous work. Our number of speakers from the class is limited and we hope the exercises will be pleasing and successful.

THE CUP

A year ago Supt. Christiansen donated a cup to be contested for by the high schools of Avon, Holbrook and Randolph. Stetson High School won all the games they played with the other nines of the district in 1922. This year we have established our superiority by defeating Avon and Holbrook. This gives us possession of the cup according to the terms of donation, which were, that any school winning the cup two out of three years would thus secure it as a permanent trophy.

of writing is not complete but if the average thus far maintained is kept up, we may expect by the end of the season to have won four out of every five games played. One of the remarkable things about our season was that we defeated Stoughton twice. When we consider that Stoughton defeated Milton twice and was defeated by Brockton in only ten innings, we may give our nine more than usual praise for playing ability.

STETSON FIELD

Stetson Field is gradually becoming one of the best baseball parks in this vicinity. Four hundred seventeen loads of filling were carried to the field by the Driscoll Co. during the winter. In addition to this the outfield has been improved by cinders sent from the Brennan factory. A considerable amount of ashes has been contributed from various sources. The right field has been extended and is in much better condition than ever before. If this improvement continues the field will eventually be in ideal shape for baseball.

BASKETBALL

Basketball during the past season has been confined mostly to the girls. The boys played, but all their games were out of town and their victories were few and far between. On the other hand the girls played the strong teams in this vicinity and won more games than they lost. They defeated Braintree and Rockland twice each, tied with East Bridgewater, and secured one tie score from North Easton. This is a very creditable record for the girls. Four of the girls received sweaters at the close of the season; Helen Linfield, Alice Foley, Helena Nordahl, and Alice Lyons.

BASEBALL

Without going into detail the 1923 baseball season has been successful as far as winning games is concerned. Our schedule at the time

QUOTATIONS

- Alice Carney—"Gentle in method, resolute in action."
 Dorothea Swain—"In maiden meditation, fancy free"
 Alice Lyons—"Avoid witticisms at the expense of others."
 Helena Nordahl—"The glorious burst of winged words"
 Bessie Griffin—"Smiles are smiles only when the heart pulls the wire."
 Gladys Creutz—"Maiden, when such a soul as thine is born, the morning stars their ancient music make."
 Mae Beale—"Moderation is the silken thread running through the pearl chain of all virtues."
 Ruby Goody—"Fair words gladden so many a heart."
 Helen Linfield—"Speak out in acts; the time for words has passed, and deeds alone suffice."
 Paul Sullivan—"Youth is too hasty with words."
 George Sullivan—"When angry count ten before you speak; when very angry, a hundred."
 Charles Boyle—"He that never thinks can never be wise."
 Wilfred McNeill—"Lost time is never found again."
 Dorothy Deane—"It is good to jest, but not to make a trade of jesting."
 Marguerite Crowley—"Neatness is a crowning grace of womanhood."
 Kathryn Desmond—"Honor lies in honest toil."
 Mary Conlon—"A tender heart; a will inflexible."
 Harry Bradley—"And even his failings leaned to virtue's side."
 Robert Kiley—"I will convince beyond all doubt."
 Clyde Thompson—"The soul of this man is in his clothes."
 Gertrude Leonard—"Though serious she's surely one who well doth love a bit of fun."
 Margaret Lightfoot—"As merry as the day is long."
 Margaret Brennan—"How wise must one be to be always kind"
 Jennie Arneson—"Every artist was first an amateur."
 Alice Foley—"Choose such pleasures as re-create much and cost little."

EXCHANGES

This Oracle thanks the other school publications which have exchanged with us during the year. We have enjoyed reading these school papers and have profited by the various ideas which are carried out. On the whole we are inclined to think the magazine type of paper is not so good as the newspaper form, and we have very seriously considered changing.

We acknowledge the receipt of the following:

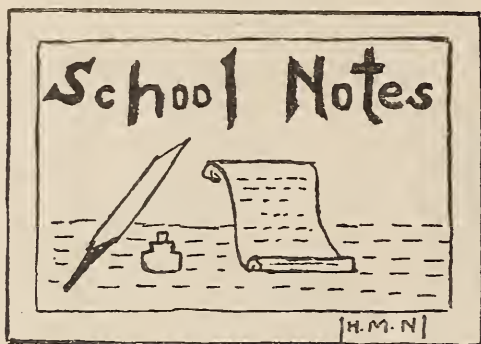

- Brocktonis—Brockton High School.
 The Mentor—Charlestown State Prison.
 The Reflector—Leonardo, New Jersey.
 The Echo—Winthrop High School
 Maroon News—Menominee, Michigan.

FRETFULNESS

If reports from various schools are to be credited, the present generation of High School pupils exhibit a restlessness which is regrettable. It has been said that the one-session plan imposes upon girls and boys too long a period of almost complete physical inactivity. An attempt has been made by calisthenic exercises and other gymnastic requirements to break the monotony of the school session. It seems hardly probable that the High Schools of Massachusetts will ever go back to the two session plan. But if the pupils came at nine o'clock and were dismissed at twelve, it is evident that the confinement of the school room would wear upon them less. Boys and girls in High School should give as much time as possible afternoons to outdoor exercise such as walking, games, and other forms of activity which keeps them out in the air. Every boy and every girl should consider that he is given a sacred trust, to lay up for himself a store of physical strength which will meet the demands of later life.

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

A number of misfortunes arose this year that hindered the materializing of our yearly routine and the advancement of new attempts. The following, however, are some of the events of the school year.

During the month of October, a large percentage of the English class, accompanied by Miss Catharine Green attended the production of "As You Like It" (which we were then studying) at the Boston Opera House.

On April 17, the Junior and Senior Chemistry Class went in automobiles to the Brockton Gas Works, the trip being arranged by Mr. Richter. The trip was both instructive and enjoyable.

On the evening of May 18, the annual Junior and Senior Reception was held in the assembly hall of the school. It was a very successful evening, the program being as follows:

- I. Speech of Welcome—James Riley—Junior Class President
- II. Vocal Solo Marion Daly
- III. "Three O'clock in the Morning"
Fancy Dance by Olive DesRoches and Leah Whelan
- IV. "Bumps"—One act comedy dealing with Phrenology.

Characters:

Miss Maria—a rich old lady
Barbara Belcher
Helen—her neice Kathryn Dolan
Clotilda Clarissa—a servant

Alyce Dorey

- V. Senior Class Prophecy Alice Foley
- VI. Distribution of favors to seniors
Refreshments—Dancing

Music was furnished by Kennedy's orchestra.

We, as a class, sincerely hope that next year we will make our last year at Stetson High School one to be remembered to the honor of the Class and School.

Barbara Belcher, S. H. S., '24.

FRESHMAN CLASS NOTES

At a recent class meeting held in the assembly room the following officers were elected: Louis Baxter, president; Edward Drummond, vice-president; Dorothy Gavin, secretary; and Elizabeth Riley, treasurer.

Walter Duffy has been promoted to a regular berth at third base on the School nine.

Baxter is a substitute and has played in a number of games.

Dorothy Gavin, '29.

WHICH?

Would'st thou be wretched?

'Tis an easy way;

Think of but self, and self alone all day;

Think of thy pain, thy loss, thy grief, thy care,
All that thou hast to do, or feel or bear;

Think of thy good, thy pleasures and thy gain,
Think only of thyself, 'twill not be in vain.

Would'st thou be happy?

'Tis an easy way;

Think of those around thee—live for them each day,

Think of their pain, their grief, their loss, their care,

All that they have to do, or feel or bear;

Think of their pleasures, or their good or their gain,

Think of those around thee—'twill not be in vain.

BE A FRIEND

Be a friend. You don't need money,

Just a disposition sunny,

Just the wish to help another

Get along some way or other;

Pass by trifling errors blindly;

Gaze on honest effort kindly;

Cheer the youth who's bravely trying,

Pity him who's sadly sighing;

Just a kindly hand extended

Out to one who's unbefriended;

Just the will to give or lend

These will make you someone's friend

—M. Allen.

MODERN LANGUAGES IN THE SCHOOLS

"I believe modern language instruction in the schools of the United States should be encouraged in the interest of American business, in the interest of America's foreign relations, and in the interest of friendly intercourse and peace." says Elliot H. Goodwin, of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

No one is in doubt as to the profit and pleasure derived by the business man who knows one or more foreign languages. The personal relation means much in cultivating lasting business relations abroad, and the removal of the language difficulty greatly stimulates business contacts with those of different nationalities.

Modern languages appeal especially to us because they afford an insight into the thoughts and feelings of living nations; the study of these languages opens a way to a broader education, provides new interests, develops a keener appreciation of other people, other customs. As we cannot expect all the foreigners with whom we desire to deal to know the English language, we should do our part in facilitating international business and social relations by giving some attention to their languages. The man or woman who has a good reading and speaking knowledge of French, or Italian, or Swedish, or Spanish etc., has a much easier and more agreeable access to the real understanding and the sympathetic friendship of those in whom he is interested in foreign countries.

AMBITION

THE value of an education cannot be measured by the foot rule.

There is a vast difference between putting money out for something and putting money into something which you will always have.

Many a young person has borrowed money on the Morris Plan to complete an education.
